

Kay Powers, Secretary

Kay Powers is a retired educator having served 27 years as a teacher and 11 years as an assistant principal. She and her husband, Mark, returned to their hometown of Columbia/Irmo in 2012 after living in towns across South Carolina while he served on staff in various churches for 30 years. Kay has led conferences, retreats, and women's Bible studies for over 28 years. She currently serves as a Guardian ad Litem through Richland County CASA, is on the Board of Directors of Kindred Hearts South Carolina, is a member of the Midlands team of the SC Citizens' Review Panel, and serves as a mentor to nine young mothers at her church.

Kay enjoys weekend getaways, Gamecock sports, reading, flower gardening, and is honing her drawing skills. She is the mother of two grown children, Lauren and Jeremy, and the proud Nana of three grandchildren.
